From the Pastor

Soon it will be Valentine's Day, a day dedicated to love.

The Gospel of John brims with God's love for Jesus and for the whole created world. Here are a few verses from John 3.

¹⁶ "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life.

¹⁷ "Indeed, God did not send the Son into the world to condemn the world but in order that the world might be saved through him. ¹⁸ Those who believe in him are not condemned, but those who do not believe are condemned already because they have not believed in the name of the only Son of God. ¹⁹ And this is the judgment, that the light has come into the world, and people loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil. ²⁰ For all who do evil hate the light and do not come to the light, so that their deeds may not be exposed. ²¹ But those who do what is true come to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that their deeds have been done in God."

As the rest of John unfolds, we will see what this looks like as we are introduced to a variety of different people. Jesus will offer teaching which will either be put into practice or dismissed. In John 3, Nicodemus is baffled as he comes to Jesus by night and slinks away shaking his head. By contrast, a Samaritan woman meets Jesus at noon by the well. After her encounter, she immediately becomes an evangelist sharing her experience and soon others are drawn to Jesus.

Love is the hallmark of this new community as Jesus instructs his disciples and washes their feet. Love is the new commandment. Love marks the new community as love mirrors God's love as shown through Jesus. Love in John is a verb. Love is action. Jesus takes into his hands the feet his own betrayer's and washes them. This is a costly love.

Can the love celebrated on Valentine's endure once the chocolate and wine run out?

Katie Bowler writes this brief blessing:

God, you told us what love looks like.

To welcome the stranger.

To shelter the sojourner.

To marry justice with mercy.

But today our streets are filled with fear.

People are being pulled from their homes and workplaces and families.

Without due process.

Without compassion.

Our immigrant neighbors are terrified.

And we feel powerless to stop it.

Give us courage.

Show us what to do next.

Bless our helplessness and transform it into acts of mercy.

Move us from heartbreak to generosity.

And interrupt our silence with the memory that your son was once a refugee too.

Show us how love does not look away.

Mystics and Mysticism: Practicing Faith in the Wilderness

Join LiVE weekly for our 6-part Lenten course as we journey with a variety of Christian mystics who encountered God in the depths of solitude, silence, and struggle.

Through Scripture, contemplative practices, and the voices of mystics across time, participants will engage the wilderness as a sacred space for transformation and deeper trust in God. This journey invites leaders to discover how mystical wisdom can shape faithful living in uncertain times.

PRESCHOOL NEWS

by Jennifer Ess, Director

January is always a fun but LONG month for the preschool – returning to the routine of preschool after a 2 week break for Christmas, hearing what the families did, and seeing how much they have grown since we saw them last! We also spend some time reviewing classroom routines.

Our first days back were pajama days for the children (and teachers). Children were also able to bring a favorite stuffed animal to join in the fun! We spent the rest of the month learning about Jesus as a boy, arctic animals – where they live and how they keep warm when it's cold, something would have come in handy! Despite the cold, we have enjoyed the sunshine and have been spending as much time as possible outside on the playground!

February will bring changing the classroom over to learning about dinosaurs, our 5 senses - and connecting them with the miracles of Jesus. We will be celebrating Valentine's Day by exchanging Valentines with our classmates and having a special party. We'll also start chapel time again with Pastor John.

Registration for the 2026/2027 school year will be happening in March – additional information will be coming soon! If you know of anyone looking for a spot in the preschool, please send them our way! We have 3 options available for families – 2 day, 3 day, and a select number of 5 day spaces. The preschool offers half day instruction.

From the February 2026 edition of The Spirit

From the Bishop:

If you follow the Revised Common Lectionary, this is the year of Matthew. Matthew's gospel offers a clear vision of the world as God intends through Jesus. It is also a clear mandate for the Church. While I encourage you to read Matthew in its entirety, here are some highlights to catch glimpses of this new world through Jesus:

Matthew 1-2: Matthew begins with a genealogy of Jesus that refuses to be neat or respectable. You see, it includes women who are foreigners, sex workers, and more. Jesus is born to a working-class family that soon become refugees as they flee Herod's murderous plot. The wise men refuse to bow down to Herod's power.

Matthew 3-4: Jesus is baptized, joining with others who are broken and burdened, entering the waters with them. He is then sent into the wilderness where he is tempted to seize power. (He says no!) Then his public ministry begins as he calls fishermen – ordinary laborers – to follow him.

Matthew 5-7: The Sermon on the Mount. Jesus blesses the poor in spirit, the meek, those who grieve. Righteousness is defined not by power or coercion but by mercy, reconciliation, and love – even love of enemies. Jesus teaches his disciples (and us!) to pray – emphasizing that God will provide each day, that we are not to be anxious, that we are not to hoard or judge but instead love and live in mutual care for one another.

Matthew 8-10: Jesus' teachings take on flesh as he heals a leper, a centurion's servant, Peter's mother-in-law, a paralytic, a hemorrhaging woman, and those who cannot hear or see. He eats with sinners, calls a tax collector, and restores people who have been pushed to the margins. He calms a storm for his scared disciples and sends them out to minister – without money or power – to also heal and restore.

Matthew 11-16: Jesus clarifies his mission by naming it plainly: healing, liberation, and good news to the poor. Human need is prioritized over religious rules. His parables lift up small, hidden things that the world overlooks. He feeds hungry crowds (5000!), challenges exclusion, and reminds his followers that being the Messiah means suffering service, not triumph.

Matthew 17-20: Jesus welcomes children and even places one at the center, calling them great in the kingdom of heaven. He warns leaders against harming the vulnerable. He tells a rich young man that true discipleship is not about the love of money. And to the chagrin of all, he tells a parable about workers where economic fairness is not tied to productivity or worthiness.

Matthew 21-25: Jesus enters Jerusalem. He comes on a donkey (not a military parade!). He overturns tables in the temple condemning its exploitation, and he heals those without power inside its walls. He condemns leaders who prey on others and he tells parables that insist on welcome, generosity, and care for the least. He makes it unmistakably clear: when you feed, clothe, welcome, and visit the stranger, you are doing so to him.

Matthew 26-27: Jesus is anointed by an unnamed woman. He is arrested, put on trial by the empire, and executed as a criminal of the state. His embodiment of God's reign inevitably brings him into direct conflict with the powers of the world.

This could be the end. But there is one more chapter.

Matthew 28: This chapter proclaims that death does not have the final word. God brings life where there was death. The women are entrusted to proclaim the good news. And the Church is formed – not to retreat from the world, but to continue Jesus' mission of manifesting God's presence in the world where children are valued, outcasts are accepted, enemies are loved, foreigners are embraced, and all people are treated in love and mercy.

This vision is Matthew's Gospel. And today, in the midst of everything, in spite of everything, it is still unfolding.
